Hollywood-based facialist to the stars, Michelle Peck, recently visited Australia to showcase the O2 Intraceuticals Oxygen treatment, aka the M facial (named after it's biggest fan, Madonna), which uses specialised oxygen equipment to dramatically improve the skin's appearance.

According to Peck, "In just one 30 minute treatment, skin looks and feels rejuvenated, radiant, moisturised and fresh." Many of Peck's celebrity clients, who include Molly Sims and Heather Locklear, even have their own Intraceuticals equipment at home for instant pick-me-ups.

The procedure involves six weekly treatments followed by monthly facials, costing $140-200 each.
